

SAYS THOUGHT CAN DESTROY DISEASE

George Shaw Cook, Science Lecturer, Heard at Local Church.

Because sickness, according to Christian Science, originates in thought and exists as a condition of belief, it must be met, and can only be effectively destroyed, in the mentality or consciousness of the one who seems to be its victim, declared George Shaw Cook, Christian Science lecturer of Chicago, Ill., speaking here Friday night at the Christian Science church to a large audience.

Mr. Cook said, in part: "The Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, has, on page 357 of her book 'Text-Book of Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures,' defined God thus: 'The great I Am; the all-knowing, all-seeing, all-acting, all-wise, all-loving, and eternal; principle; Mind; Soul; Spirit; Life; Truth; Love; all substance; intelligence.' God is all-knowing and is, therefore, infinite Mind, that which knows, comprehends, and includes all that is all. God is all-acting, that which does, or perceives all that is real. God is all-acting, the source and soul of all activity and power. God is all-seeing, that which sees all that is real. God is all-seeing, the only inviolable, impartial, universal Love. Thus it will be seen that God is infinitely the basis of all wisdom, goodness, food, the basis of all effect and good."

A good cause could only be manifested or expressed in a good effect; hence we find in the first chapter of Genesis (first and third verses) these positive and definite declarations: "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." "And God saw every thing that he had made, and behold, it was very good." For the reason that effect must always be like cause, it follows with equal certainty that God being Spirit, his creation must be spiritual. Since God is Mind, it follows, consequently, that which thinks, the most of necessity be reflected by thought. The universe or creation of God is, therefore, a thought-universe consisting of perfect, unchangeable thoughts or ideas. Thus it will be seen that the universe of God is not material, nor could it have been evolved from a material basis. The universe of God, of course, is the infinite expression of Spirit, the eternal activity of divine Mind in thought, or thinking, the sum-total of true, or spiritual, consciousness.

Universe, including man. The spiritual universe comprising all that exists by way of creation must, of necessity, include man, the divine, spiritual man, created in God's likeness. And man being the exact likeness, the perfect reflection of Mind, or Spirit, must be, and is, in his true nature, spiritual. Thus it will be seen that the real man is not black or white or red or brown. Man is not something which is so many for so many, as many men have been led to believe. Man is, in fact, the image of Love; he is not physical. This man, the first man, first created in God's likeness, is a necessary factor in the universe of God, necessary to its completeness and its continuity. Spiritual man, the real man, is, therefore, eternally in his right, business of expressing consciously and perfectly the divine qualities of health, happiness, beauty, activity, freedom, power, and dominion. This fact insures man's immortality and eternal security.

Pain and suffering, the nature of matter may come gradually, but even partial recognition of the fact that matter is unreal has been found helpful and practical in the Christian Science healing of their daily human experiences, especially in the overcoming of sickness and sin. In combating sickness it is particularly helpful to know that matter is unreal, because it enables one to see that disease is mental and not material. The knowledge that everything of which the senses take cognizance exists because of thought helps one to see that disease must be of mental origin, and that in the treatment of sickness it is futile to employ material remedies. Sickness, according to Christian Science, originates in thought and exists as a condition of belief; it must be met, and can only be effectively destroyed, in the mentality or consciousness of the one who seems to be its victim. This can be accomplished successfully in no other way than by substituting thought for consciousness, the idea of health for the belief in disease, the idea of perfect and harmonious action for the belief in action or inaction. If, as Mrs. Eddy points out, there is no intelligence and no sensation in matter, it is obvious that matter cannot experience sickness or disease, and that if there seems to be a sense of pain and suffering, it must be in thought and not in the body. Many progressive medical doctors are recognizing more and more the mental origin of disease. They have said, for example, that fear, worry, hatred, and anger will produce sickness, and they admit that many cases of illness are due to the emotions of the human mind. Christian Scientists would agree with the physicians at this point but would go beyond them in their treatment of disease, for to them the mind is the cause of disease, not the body. In doing so, however, they do not contend that all disease is the result of conscious fear, nor of willful sin, but that lack of every discordant or discordant condition of the material body there is some erroneous condition of thought which must be destroyed before there can be a permanent cure.

Mrs. Eddy's Leadership. Mrs. Eddy founded the Christian Science movement of which she became the revered leader. She wisely provided for all the needs of this great movement, for its continuity, and for the protection of its varied and far-reaching activities. In 1895 she established an international daily newspaper which she named The Christian Science Monitor, and in which one may find the most helpful, and interesting accounts of what is going on in the world with thought that which is helpful and inspiring. The establishment of this newspaper is only one of many evidences of Mrs. Eddy's wisdom, foresight, and courage, and also of her love for humanity. That Mrs. Eddy's ever conscious of turning thought away from herself to her works is shown in a message which at one time she sent to a group of Christian Scientists of which I am a member. In this message she said: "Tell them they cannot know me in my personality, but in my books and my writings, and in my love for them and for all mankind."

Christian Scientists, following the example of their much beloved leader, are striving so to live that they may prove themselves not only willing but able to obey the command of the master Christian. "And as ye go, preach, saying, The Kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils."

TANK COMPANY FLOURISHES UNDER HIS LEADERSHIP

CAPT. PERLE GRIMSHAW

One of the most popular officers with the thirty-second division overseas was Perle J. Grimshaw, a lieutenant of Co. M, 128th Infantry, Janesville, Wis. Today it is Capt. Grimshaw, commanding officer of the thirty-second division tank company, Janesville. The local tank company is the only one of the Wisconsin national guard and one of the few in the country.

Under Capt. Grimshaw's regime as commanding officer the company has flourished and is rapidly approaching full peacetime strength of 105 officers and men.

Capt. Grimshaw is now at Camp Meade, Md., attending a three months' course in the tank school of the regular army.

New Saxe Theater to Seat 3,500

What is said to be the largest and most elaborate theater in the state, the New Saxe, is to open in Milwaukee March 28, under the management of the Saxe Brothers. The theater proper has 3,000 seats, comfortably designed, containing especially constructed upholstery and rare oil paintings, marble pillars and rich drapes lending grandeur to the lobby. Lounging rooms for women have been luxuriously furnished with maid in charge at all hours.

Motion pictures will be shown primarily in the new theater, with two organs to play in the symphony concert orchestra. Other features of the building include a laboratory, or diminutive theater, where pictures will be presented; and Joseph A. Altheimer, the largest in the United States, which is located on the top of the building; and bowling alleys, pool and billiard tables in the sub-levels of the building.

Library Offers More New Fiction

Adventure stories for boys comprise the majority of the new juvenile books placed in the children's room at the public library this week-end.

The "Lost Hunters," depicting life among the Sioux, and "A Boy of the Lost Crusade," by Anna Danforth Flowers, a historical tale of the children's crusade of the 12th century, are probably most noteworthy, while several new editions of older stories, abridged for children, have also been added.

"The Three Musketeers," set against the picturesque background of the French court, lends itself peculiarly well to pictorial representation, a part well filled by Milo Winter, famous illustrator.

"Jack Buller's Fortune," by Howard Pyle, about pirates, gold, and life in the old Virginia plantations, has also been reprinted, with illustrations, "Derick Sterling," by Rex Minors, a story of adventure in industry, and "Emancipator," by the same author, have been placed in circulation.

"Good Stories for Great Birthdays," following the same plan as the former volume by the same author, Frances Jenkins Osgood, "Good Stories for Great Holidays," contains a group of tales suitable for children's reading on the birthday anniversaries of the great and near great in American history.

Other volumes this week include "The Hill," by Horace A. Vanehl, an English school story; "Felix's Secret," by Harriet A. Nash, and three volumes of "The Boy Mechanic," by Nancy Byrd Turner, and "The Fairy King," from the Norwegian of Hans Christian Andersen, edited by Kate Douglas Wiggin and Nora Smith, will be popular.

JOHN ATHLETIC BODY. Madison—Among the new members taken into the Women's Athletic association at the University of Wisconsin are Esther G. Filand, Janesville; Helen M. Robinson, Lake Geneva; Daisy G. Simpson, Delavan; and Hazel H. Hoyer, Jefferson.

"HAVE A SMOKE" "YOU GOTTA MATCH?" AND THE WAR ENDS

Watching two or more contestants at the heat of a court trial, one would think that there was trouble brewing between the counsel.

There is violent collision verbally between the counsel, but the collision is only a verbal one, and the counsel are not actually fighting. The collision is only a verbal one, and the counsel are not actually fighting.

But here is what generally happens after the arguments are over or the material testimony and cross-examination completed. The two attorneys, who have been in a verbal collision, are called, going into another room, it's about as follows:

"Well, Harry, that was a splendid argument—have a smoke?" "Thanks—got a match?" "Next time you come down in the summer, we'll play a game of golf. It's a wonderful game."

The next minute they will be discussing some pleasant memory of college days or about mutual friends. The verbal collision between contestants at the heat of a court trial is about 99 1/2 percent bunk.

TRAILER JURY ENDS 25 HOUR SESSION IN MIXED VERDICT

In the Wisconsin supreme court on Monday, proceedings were ordered back for trial with rulings that the plaintiff could not recover on the grounds of a breach of contract but only on the issue of negligence. The jury, which had been in session for 25 hours, was discharged at the time of the fire. The verdict holds that both the defendant and plaintiff corporations were negligent in the matter of electrical equipment and installation.

The paramount issue is held upon whether George H. Blakesley, former agent of the Electric company as manager of the Edison department, was negligent in this action the morning of the fire. The verdict completely exonerates Blakesley, who entered the electric company in 1901, and was in charge of the high tension wires furnishing power to the electric pump.

Used Ordinary Care. The verdict distinctly holds that Blakesley did not fail to exercise ordinary care in overseeing the current of the line until he had cut the transmission line leading into the Highway Trailer company's transformers. The jury also failed to accept the contention of the defense that a "short circuit" from within the burning plant caused the break in the power and the electric current in automatically disconnecting the power at the main Janesville station.

Exonerating of Blakesley in regard to the defendant's negligence is a decided point in favor of the defense, for had the jury held him negligent there would be no question as to the full recovery of the returned, or even greater damage.

The verdict holds that while the plaintiff did not have proper safety devices in its plant, the failure to do so was not the cause of the damage. The jury also failed to accept the contention of the defense that a "short circuit" from within the burning plant caused the break in the power and the electric current in automatically disconnecting the power at the main Janesville station.

negligent act on part of Mr. Blakesley the proximate cause of damage to the plaintiff by way of increased loss by the fire. Answer: No answer.

5. Was the electric breaker at Janesville thrown out during the fire because of a short circuit in the electric service wires installed by the plaintiff? Answer: No.

6. Did the plaintiff have the electric wires in its plants installed and equipped with such safety devices as were at that time required by the generally accepted standard of safe and proper installation? Answer: No.

7. If you answer question 6 by "No," then answer this: Was failure on part of the plaintiff to have such safety devices on its line a proximate cause of the interruption of the electric current to Edgerton at the time of the fire? Answer: No.

8. If you answer question 6 by "No," then answer this: Did the plaintiff fail to exercise ordinary care in not having service wires equipped with such safety devices as were, at that time, required by the generally accepted standard of safe and proper installation? Answer: Yes.

9. If you answer question 8 by "Yes," then answer this: Did such failure on part of the plaintiff to exercise ordinary care proximately cause the interruption of the electric current to Edgerton at the time of the fire? Answer: No.

10. If you answer question 8 by "No," then answer this: Was failure on part of the plaintiff to exercise ordinary care in not providing, prior to the fire, a pole top switch or other device for disconnecting the line to plaintiff's plant without interrupting the current to the electric pump a proximate cause of the interruption of the electric current to Edgerton at the time of the fire? Answer: Yes.

11. If you answer question 10 by "Yes," then answer this: Was such failure to exercise ordinary care on part of the plaintiff a proximate cause of damage by fire loss to the plaintiff? Answer: No answer.

11. Did any of the defendant's servants fail to exercise ordinary care in restoring the electric service to the pump after it had been interrupted? Answer: Yes.

12. If you answer question 11 by "Yes," then answer this: Did such failure to exercise ordinary care in restoring the electric service constitute negligence on the part of the defendant? Answer: Yes.

13. How much of plaintiff's loss, if any, measured in money, was due to negligent interference with the fire service by the defendant? Answer: $47,703.45.

14. If in answer to the 13th question you find that plaintiff sustained a loss due to negligent interference with the fire service by the defendant, then answer further: How much of said loss was (a) on personal property? Answer: $17,528.83; (b) on the building? Answer: $30,174.62.

GIVE PROGRAMS AT U. W. CONVENTIONS

Madison—About 45 students will take part in the weekly convention programs given at the School of Music of the University of Wisconsin last semester. As residents of Wisconsin, at the conventions of the school, held every Wednesday afternoon, students of the school gave programs of piano, violin and vocal selections. Among those from Janesville were: Violin, Esther Nelson, Edgerton; piano, Grace Plimley, Brooklyn; and Marion Vedder, Clinton.

STUDENT'S WILL EDIT WEEKLY NEWSPAPERS

Madison—Five Wisconsin weekly newspapers will be edited and published by five teams of students from the University of Wisconsin course in journalism during the week of the spring recess, April 9-15. Elizabeth L. Muthman, Delavan, will be among those who will edit the Shawano County Advocate, and Vernon C. Send Your Mother Flowers on Your Birthday, Janesville Floral Co.

ANTI-MADDOO MEN DEMAND CANDIDATE DECLARATION ON K. K. K.

Senator Underwood of Alabama declared considerable prestige in the northern states by his denunciation of the K. K. K., and if the issue should become more sharply defined at the convention and Senator Underwood's position on the Ku Klux Klan issue acceptable to the democrats of New York, New Jersey, Illinois and Massachusetts, he would stand a better chance of winning their support than any other candidate. The convention itself will be held in New York, where the anti-Ku Klux atmosphere is bound to bring about the adoption of a plank in the democratic platform which places the party on record against secret organizations of the K. K. K. type. The American Legion convention faced the question and the position is freely made here that the two political parties will have to meet it in June. Mr. McAdoo's victory in Georgia, where the Ku Klux Klan was organized, puts the burden of proof on the candidate. His friends, however, insist that he is glad of the opportunity to make his position clear. David Ladd (Rockwell), campaign manager for Mr. McAdoo, will be here Saturday and may have something to say on the subject.

It is for this reason that a statement from Mr. McAdoo on the K. K. K. question is expected. The very fact that the opponents have turned from the oil controversy to the K. K. K. issue is a sign that they realize his increasing strength. But even if the oil question had not arisen it is certain that a demand would have been made for a declaration from Mr. McAdoo as to where he stands on the question of secret organizations which have for their avowed object the development of a preferential status in America for these groups which are allied with the K. K. K.

PACKERS PAYING T. B. HOG PREMIUM

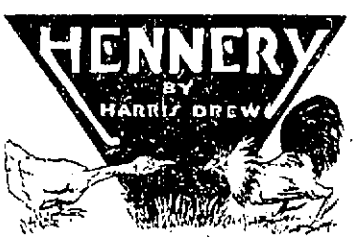

Several Counties Obtain Bonus Offered for Hogs from Accredited Counties.

The removal of tuberculous cattle is reducing to a great degree the condemnations of pork carcasses, according to H. H. Smith, commissioner of the National Live Stock Exchanges. Dr. Vande, government inspector of the Buffalo market, has submitted to him some very definite proof.

For example, Hillsdale county, in southern Michigan, was the first county in the country to have a tuberculosis eradication program. It was officially accredited. All the cattle in the county were tuberculin tested twice and the infected herds were destroyed. The result was a reduction in the percentage of condemnations from 2.6 per cent to less than 1.2 per cent.

The 10-cent premium offered by the packers for tuberculin-tested hogs from Hillsdale county slaughtered at Buffalo during the period from Nov. 6, 1923, to March 6, 1924. The killing test is not a requirement in the payment of this premium, as the certificate from the county board of supervisors is the guarantee that the hogs were bred and fed in a tuberculin-tested area.

As a matter of information, the Buffalo packers have agreed to kill separately all of these hogs to get a check on actual results.

HENNER

1. My son, consider the fruit tree and despise not its infant, shade.

2. For it, growing chicks and its shadow, shall be a blessing unto them.

3. Get these into a nursery and plant them in the orchard and those who make the fruit to water and the stomach to turn, a somersault for joy.

4. Size up the poultry runs and plant within them such as they will accommodate.

5. And get the grape vines and peaches and other fruit trees and plant them in the orchard and those who make the fruit to water and the stomach to turn, a somersault for joy.

6. Dost thou sojourn in bare feet on the baked earth with the mercury filling the tube and the solar beam smiting thee like a thousand of stings?

7. Behold, thou dost seek thy cool porch and dost hoist thy speckled feet to the rail to catch the breeze and dost sigh and call unto thy first born for a cool drink and a palm leaf.

8. Wherefore, then, dost thou torture the hen and place them in a bare run where relief is not?

9. Give unto them shade and they in turn shall prosper thy fruit trees, and thou shalt eat of the fruit thereof and shalt lick thy chops.

10. And thy white birds shall remain white. They shall not rather brass from the sun, neither shall thy young pullets be stunted by the intense heat.

11. And make thy plans now, for yet a few days and the ground will be nearly, and to the days of spring, laid away even as a bull pup after a tom cat.

12. Sit thee down with thy pencil and thy better half and figure in dust and ink, and make thee a plan of thy yards and know what shall be put where.

13. Cast thy foliage upon the chicken yard and it shall come back to thee manyfold before many years.

REPORT INDICATES '24 CROP CHANGES

Farmers Expect to Plant More Corn, Oats, Barley, Less Wheat and Rye.

Washington.—The following statement of the agricultural outlook for 1924, based upon current information and upon reports of 45,000 farmers, was prepared by the bureau of agricultural economics of the United States department of agriculture to provide a basis upon which producers make readjustments to meet economic conditions.

Corn.—Report shows on March 1 farmers were planning to increase the corn acreage about 2 per cent over last year. These increases largely replace wheat. The north Atlantic and east north central states plan an increase of from 1 to 2 per cent. In the west north central states increase of about 6 per cent is indicated. In the far western states an increase of about 12 per cent over last year is planned. The increase in the north Atlantic states is shown for Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and South Dakota, while the increase is indicated to be planted in Kansas is reported to be 10 per cent more than a year ago. An increase of about 1 per cent is expected in the cotton states.

Wheat.—The acreage will be 14 per cent below that harvested in 1923, if present intentions are carried out. The 1923 acreage was 5 per cent less than in 1922.

Oats.—An increase of 7 per cent is shown in the intended acreage of oats.

Barley.—An increase of 3 per cent is shown in intended acreage.

Rye.—The acreage reported sown last fall was 54 per cent of that sown in 1922. Present reports show an acreage to be harvested of slightly less than 70 per cent, indicating that producers are planning to use a larger proportion of the crop than usual for pasture and soil improvement.

Flax.—The acreage will again be greatly increased if present intentions are carried out, these being for a 34 per cent increase over last year.

Hay.—An increase of 4 per cent is indicated.

Potatoes.—A decrease of 2 per cent forecast.

Tobacco.—The intention of farmers to plant tobacco on Feb. 15 in the southern states and March 1 in the northern states showed that the same acreage as last year was contemplated.

"KIT" AGAIN TOPS BELOIT-ROCK C. T. A.

1923 Record of 16,530 Pounds Milk and 522.3 Pounds of Fat—Other Records.

"Kit" the famous Holstein grade cow on the Rockwell and Katterberg farms, Beloit, for the second year topped the Beloit-Rock county cow testing association, according to the yearly report recently compiled. Her 1923 record is 16,530 pounds of milk and 522.3 pounds of butter-fat, as compared with 1922 record of 23,374 pounds of milk and 804.2 pounds of fat. This record still stands as being the best for milk in Wisconsin, although the Beloit grade now ranks fourth in butter-fat.

"Beauty", a half sister to the famous "Kit", is making a strong bid for premier honors this year and there are three cows on this farm making around 50 pounds a day—a milk can every 24 hours.

The high record four year old in the Beloit-Rock County C. T. A. is "Josephine" owned by Arnold Brothers with a record of 11,292 pounds of milk and 438.5 pounds of butter-fat. The high two year old is "Fergus May Princess" owned by W. J. Dougan, Beloit, producing 8,282 pounds of milk and 419.7 pounds of butter-fat. The high three year old is "Fergus May Princess" owned by W. J. Dougan, Beloit, producing 8,282 pounds of milk and 419.7 pounds of butter-fat. CUT FREIGHT RATES ON COW SHIPMENTS

Excursion rates for dairy cattle traveling to points in North Dakota and Montana is the latest innovation at Wisconsin livestock divison.

Having in mind that the development of dairying and diversified farming is most important for that section of the country, and that this section is the richest in the minds of those who are interested in the well-being of the farmers throughout the northwest, especially in North Dakota and Montana, the Northern Pacific railroad company will put into effect for a 90-day period—April 15 to July 15—a 25 per cent reduction in rates on dairy cattle from Wisconsin to all points in North Dakota and Montana.

COMMUNITY CLUBS

COMMUNITY MEETINGS.

March 27.—Smithton Community club, Bradford, town hall.

March 28.—Box social and entertainment, Barr school, Avon.

Mrs. William Huchka and Mrs. Ted Reel will have charge of the program for the regular meeting of the Smithton Community club, March 27 in Bradford town hall. A special feature will be a radio concert provided by John Stoney, Avon. The Gazette community department is arranging a program for the Smithton club meeting, the second Thursday of April.

Harr school, town of Avon, will have a box social and program Friday night, March 28, in the school building. Miss Burnette Knudson is the teacher. A prize will be given for the prettiest box and the highest bidder. The program will be as follows: Address of welcome, Clifford Timm; recitation, "Hello Artie," Edna and Onora; pantomime, "The Sealing Society," Laura Skog, Laura Cox, Mildred Skog, Irene Bjerkie and Edna Amundt; dialogue, "The New Bird Song," by four boys, recitation, William Giesey and Marion Walmer; monologue, "Jays' Wood," Ray Timm; song, "Little Brown Church," Mildred and Onora; song, "What We Will Be," Mildred Walmer, Arlene Reese, Irene Bjerkie and Edna Amundt.

A motion picture entertainment was presented at the Shopley Congregational church, Friday night by the Gazette community department. Eight reels of pictures were shown. A road program has been located for the next two weeks and all dates are still open.

BREWERY REPLACED BY DAIRY PLANT

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Monroe, Wis.—The present order of things changes the past order. Milk is taking the place of high tension beer.

One of the most up-to-date dairy plants in the central west will be operating in Monroe in the building used by the Monroe Brewing and Ice company. Four 300 gallon glass lined tanks are being installed. Cream will be shipped to Chicago and an extensive ice cream business developed.

MADISON PRODUCERS TO ADVERTISE MILK

Co-operating advertising of dairy products will be taken up by the Madison milk producers. To carry out the producers during a recent meeting voted to deduct not more than 1 cent per hundred pounds of milk from their pay checks to advertise milk in Madison. This fund will be met by an equal amount from the dealers.

Go into any large city and along the highway everything from automobiles to "oleo" is being advertised. In Madison was made and it was found the consumption of milk was decreasing instead of increasing.

BUREAU IN FAVOR OF TRAFFIC TAX

Datta Being Obtained—Real Estate Paying Too Much Road Costs?

Resolutions are being sent out by the Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation to sound opinion in Wisconsin on the highway tax. The point raised by the Bureau is that too much of the highway expenses are paid through real estate taxation and not enough through traffic. A gasoline tax is favored by the most of the farmer's organizations with fuel used for tractors and farm power machines to be taxed.

The resolution received by H. C. Hemmingsway, secretary of the Rock County Farm Bureau follows:

"The time is past when a real estate tax should or can be expected to raise the major part of public funds, and especially is this true of highway fund-raising. The expense of building and maintaining highways has been increasing rapidly. This total expenditure in Wisconsin in 1915 was $1,858,225, in 1922 it was $2,391,231, which was an increase by 26.86 per cent or over two and one-half times in four years.

The amount expended for county highways alone in 1922 was $2,191,020. This is more than the total highway expenditures of Wisconsin in 1918. The county highway expense alone is responsible for about 32 1/2 per cent of the real estate tax.

"Shall real estate continue to pay most of this county highway expense? Shall the real estate owner be asked to carry the load? Shall the taxpayer be asked to consider this question today?"

"SOY BEANS" BRIGGS HERE ON MARCH 29

Rock County farmers who are the largest growers of farmers is expected to hear George "Soybean" Briggs at the lecture to be given in the new Janesville high school in next Monday evening, March 28. Hundreds of farmers are planning to raise soybeans the coming season and there is no better authority on this legume crop than Briggs.

By increasing the alfalfa and soybean acreage, farmers are able to grow more of valuable livestock feed, thereby reducing feed costs. A bushel of soybeans will produce more than a bushel of corn this spring.

The Farm Bureau is obtaining seeds for its members at low costs, through an arrangement made by Secretary H. C. Hemmingsway. Numerous calls are reported for soybean seed.

BOYNTON SHORTHORNS PASS "T. B." TESTS

The Poind and Milking Shorthorn herd of E. R. Boynton, Beloit, passed a clean test this week in preparation for the sale to be held on the farm March 27. The entire herd will be sold, including six outstanding heifers, purchased at the Harvey Little sale.

These six heifers and others are of uniform good quality. In selecting the Rock County International show herd last year, the committee doubted for considerable time which of the six had the most show ring merit. The one selected stood third in a class of 22 and would have looked good in first place.

The big crowd of Shorthorn breeders is expected to attend the sale of this famous herd.

The St. Lawrence River discharges 1,000,000 cubic feet of water per second.

The steamship Orduna in New York harbor.

Seizure of the S. S. Orduna of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Co. by United States officials in New York, who made accusations of violation of the customs, prohibition and narcotic laws, may bring to a head in London a situation caused by charges that the indifference of the British government is responsible for wholesale violation of American laws by British citizens engaged in illegal liquor trade.

The U. S. government demanded $1,000,000 bond of the owners of the Orduna. Two members of the crew confessed to charges of smuggling narcotics. The captain was accused of knowingly signing false manifests, with the consent of the company.

Kansans are behind a move to transfer Jonathan M. Davis from the governor's mansion in Topeka to the White House in Washington. They believe that the "dirt farmer" governor is capable of making a strong bid for the Democratic nomination, and contend he would attract the votes of Western farmers of all parties if he were a nominee. Kansas is a Republican stronghold, but Davis won the governorship by a large majority.

MOTORIST'S

Cooling System Should Be Carefully Inspected Before Warm Weather Arrives

During the cold weather, you have probably been using an anti-freeze solution, and they usually have a certain amount of effect on the rubber of the hose connections. In addition to this the hot water circulating through them, has a tendency to rot the rubber. The outside of the hose connections may look all right, but if the car has been very much service, the rubber skin inside the hose may have rotted and curled up, so obstructing the free flow of water through the cooling system. It is a good investment to remove both upper and lower hose connections each season and renew them. You are then sure that they will give no trouble by leaking or obstructing the flow of water through the circulating system later in the season.

If there is any mud or dirt between the fins of the radiator, take a hose with a good strong pressure behind it and flush through radiator from the rear. Before you do this, however, cover up the spark plugs and ignition system so that these parts will not get wet.

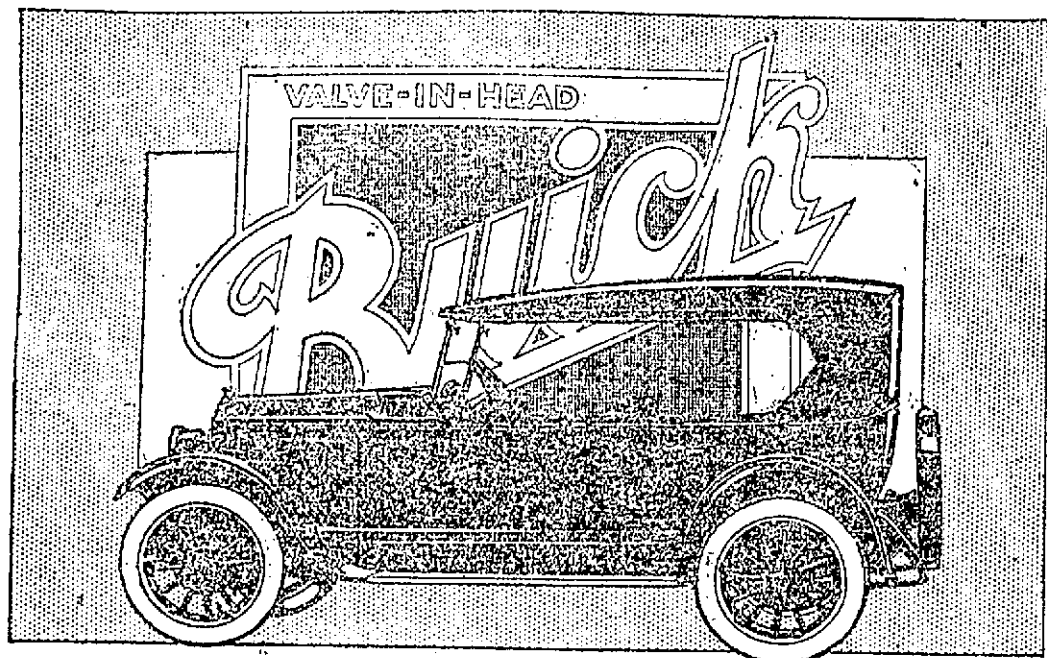

Now start the engine and if convenient take a run for a mile or so, then stop and examine to see that the radiator or hose connections are not leaking. If the radiator leaks, have a good radiator repair man repair it. Do not use any of the patent "stop leak" preparations to make a permanent repair. Most of these are all right for a temporary repair while touring, etc., but are not to be trusted for making a permanent job.

Now have a look at the Fan Belt to see that it is adjusted properly. The belt must not be kept too tight or you will have trouble with it stretching and breaking, and you will also put a strain on the fan bearing. It must not be too loose or it will slip. If the belt is adjusted correctly, you should just be able to slide the fan pulley on the belt by pressing down with a moderate pressure on a fan blade. If it slips around too easily, you will find an adjustment that will enable you to increase the tension on the belt until it is correct. The belt should be inspected about once a month, and the fan bearing lubricated about once a week.

If your cooling system is of the Thermo-Siphon type, the above is all the attention it will require. If, however, you have a pump to circulate the water, fill the radiator nearly full, then start the engine and observe to see if the water in the radiator bubbles or churns when the engine is running. If it shows no sign of movement, then have it examined by a good mechanic, as it is possible that the key holding the impeller blades on the pump shaft is sheared and the water is not circulating. This trouble is generally caused when the water in the cooling system freezes, then when the engine is started, as the impeller blades are frozen solid and cannot move, something has to go, and it is usually the key in the pump shaft.

If the water is circulating all right, then examine to see that the pump glands are not leaking. If they are, tighten the packing nut. Be careful in doing this, however, that you do not tighten it too much, or you may cause the shaft to bind and cut, and the pump will then leak worse than ever. If you find you cannot stop the leak by tightening the packing nuts, then the glands will have to be repacked. To do this, unscrew the packing nut and wind a few inches of hemp that has been soaked in graphite grease around the shaft, then tighten the packing nut. If you notice that the shaft has a series of rings where the packing goes, then it may be necessary to fit a new shaft to make a good job.

Skilled Tire Repair Service

A week ago we announced that we were placing an experienced tire builder at the head of our Vulcanizing and Repair Department. Since that time many people have had the opportunity of trying our exceptional service at a considerable saving to themselves.

Perhaps that bad casing isn't so hopeless after all. Bring it in and let us look it over. You will be surprised at the wonders that can be worked by relining, (retreading) sometimes, repairing blowouts and loose or injured treads.

See that your tires make every dollar that they cost. Have yours overhauled while your car is in the Garage.

Factory Trained Mechanic to Service Studebakers

Oscar Callison, foreman of our Service Department, has just returned from a month's special training at the Studebaker Factory, Detroit, Mich., where he has been taking instructions and training for advanced mechanics in up-to-the-minute methods for servicing automobiles. This school is conducted by the Studebaker Corporation for the purpose of teaching the live wire mechanics the fastest and most efficient methods for servicing not only Studebaker cars but all standard makes for automobiles. The instructions covered motors, carburetors, brakes, transmission and differential adjustments.

We take pleasure in making this announcement for even better servicing of all makes of cars than in the past. 100% satisfaction guaranteed to our patrons.

A bachelor's dream

PLAN NOS. 1898-1899.

This week we are submitting for your consideration a typical English one-story home in stucco and because of its many unique details it cannot help but make strong appeals—the front exposed fireplace chimney is a distinct feature that adds materially to the attractiveness of the home.

The interior alternate arrangements show division and conveniences of rooms which should make it easy for you to adopt this exterior with one of the floor plans in meeting your needs. This home will add attractiveness to any locality and is practical for any climate.

To every man comes a longing time for companionship and home

—Bachelorhood is an admittance of selfishness, an existence unpremeditated, acquired through association and from men who boast that good fellowship and freedom from family obligations is the life to be preferred. A few are able to retain these thoughts and continue this mode of living, but the majority soon tire of the farce and come to realize and appreciate that love, happiness, affection and home are the really great and worth-while things to strive for. Sometimes it's the smile or touch of a baby, the gentle care and attention of the nurse during sickness, the thought of coming old age without companionship or protection that awakens dormant men and transforms them into real human beings. More often, however, it is the change of atmosphere, associating and meeting people whose thoughts and actions reflect the good, true and real side of life, and it is the girl you meet under these environments that you are glad to work and make sacrifices for. She in turn will appreciate your efforts and will devote her time to making your life and home the dearest spot in all the world.

—Tonight in your den of loneliness close your eyes and visualize the happiness that you are being deprived of and resolve to fulfil those two moral obligations—Matrimony and Home Ownership.

—The following Progressive Firms and Organizations are co-operating in presenting this weekly educational campaign page to our readers. Read the list. You know them all, and remember, this is their recommendation for you to build a home.
